THE FIRST AMENDMENT: Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of all the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

WHAT I CAN AFFORD TO GIVE YOU!

I can not give you an impressive gift. Only wishes, which are in short shrift in a world that values things above all else, and is ever concerned with the fulfillment of self.

So on this day most holy, my gifts to you are only-the ones that from the heart springs and have meaning only if you have the eyes to see.

I WISH FOR YOU:

--a sense of wonder your whole life through so that life is ever new----the realization that the joys of life and good health are not found in things and wealth. Along with your health may you always keep the knowledge that to see, and hear, to walk and talk, and think:

are miracles, gifts, not a promise that is cheap-

--I wish for you love and the ability not to take it for granted, whether it is a mate, a child or friend, for we must remember that hearts are the hardest things to mend----And finally, when you are overwhelmed with the cares and problems of this life, May someone remind you that it really is:

A WONDERFUL LIFE! Merry Christmas! Suzanne Brown Bardwell

Property tax cuts go into effect

A total of $18 billion in property tax cuts were approved by more than 80% of voters in the November general election and should be reflected in property tax bills that are due by Jan. 31. The cuts come in the form of increased home exemptions, lower school district rates, and limiting the amount property appraisals can rise

Many taxing districts sent out bills before the election that factored in the decrease, anticipating voter approval. For example, in Gregg County in Northeast Texas, the tax bill noted on the back sheet that the lower amount was contingent on voter approval of the proposed amendments. If the amendments had not passed, taxpayers would be billed for the difference. According to the state comptroller's office, a typical homestead valued at $350,000 will see a tax savings of about $1,000. Prior to the approval of the tax cuts, Texas ranked sixth highest in the nation in property tax rates, partly because the state does not have a state income tax.

Going forward by looking back ...

This will be our second Christmas without my lovely bride Suzanne and my dear mother-in-law Mimi and my stepfather Gary.

And as you might guess, life is not the same.

And as we continue to try and move forward without the three strongest people I have ever had the joy of loving, I felt the need to look back to a much simpler time.

When I was young Santa always visited my granny and granddaddy's house on Seven Pines Road (FM 1844 to anyone under 50) in Gregg County. That is where we all gathered on Christmas Eve.

It was a glorious time for an only child and the only grandchild. Sure, I was spoiled, and I loved every minute of it. Heck, it was Christmas and when it's that time of year, all's fair in love and war and presents.

I remember the aroma that floated from my granny's kitchen so many years ago as the smell of turkey and dressing and cherry pies mixed with the smell of rolls baking in the oven.

Then there was the overwhelming fragrance of the Christmas tree, which was always real and rather gangly. Best of all, I got to help cut down the tree with my granddaddy and that was pretty special.

I remember us drawing pictures with our fingers on steamed-up kitchen windows from all of the Christmas cooking. And I remember watching as my granny and greatgrandma would use every pot, every skillet and every baking dish to prepare everyone's favorite dish. And sometimes I got to help make the cherry pie or cherry cobbler - my favorites.

Oh, how I loved shaking all the beautifully wrapped Christmas gifts that had my name on them. And then shaking them again just for good measure.

I remember watching the rare snowfall on Seven Pines Road with my mom, two aunts and uncle and loving every minute of it, even though my father would complain about snow causing hazardous driving conditions.

I guess the best thing I remember was when all the family would gather at the kitchen table for dinner - everyone was elbow-to-elbow around what I thought then was the biggest oak table in the world.

I can see them to this day – granddaddy sat at the head of the table, with my chair scooted right up by his. Uncle George and my aunts Cheryl and Marilyn would be sitting by the windows, while mom and dad and my great-grandma would be on the opposite side, along with my step greatgrandfather Mert. My granny - when she wasn't busy keeping food bowls and serving dishes full – would be opposite my granddaddy and me.

Then just as we were about to dive in to the best meal ever on my piece of earth, my great-aunt Belle and great-uncle Gene would come through the door – late as usual – and we would squeeze two more chairs around the table.

There we were in all our glory – everyone talking at the same time and everyone fidgeting trying to get some muchneeded elbow room and not finding a spare inch around the table. We were squeezed in like sardines - but you know what - I really didn't notice and I really didn't care. I was all smiles - ear to ear - because I was in the happiest place on earth with the people I loved the most.

My granny passed away many years ago and my aunt sold my granny's house a few years back. I can't help but think of those happy holidays every time I drive past it.

And that old kitchen table, which now sets in my mom's house, is pretty bare these days - just my mom and I are left, along with my son Josh and daughter-in-law Jennifer.

The table is slightly smaller now, but it still serves its purpose. It is a place to bring what family there is left together even in the toughest of times. Our small family will gather on Christmas Day for lunch and look around for those no longer with us. It will be hard - no getting around that - but we will survive.

We will survive because that's what my family does and that's what Suzanne and Gary would expect from us.

So my friends, I'll just squint real hard so I can see that full table from when I was little and I will again feel safe because my granddaddy will be sitting next to me. And that's a pretty good Christmas present I can give to myself this year.

Merry Christmas to you all and I hope you too have a happiest place on earth you can turn to this season when times get hard.

released by his campaign. "Whether it's the House costs, Senate costs, or the overall impeachment session costs, many millions more were incurred on Dade Phelan's sham and needless impeachment."

Paxton impeachment cost $4.3 million

The Dallas Morning News reported last week that the taxpayer cost of impeaching Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton was more than $4.3 million. More than two dozen lawyers worked to prosecute Paxton leading up to and during his two-week trial in the Senate. That chamber acquitted him of all 20 charges after the House voted overwhelmingly to impeach Paxton, who is under indictment for securities fraud and was accused of abuse of office.

Lawyers billed more than 7,800 hours related to Paxton's impeachment, The News reported after seeking copies of all invoices and related documents. Co-counsel Dick DeGuerin defended the amount of work done by attorneys.

"Everything we did was justified, and I won't retreat from that statement ever," DeGuerin said. "We presented strong evidence that Paxton just surrendered the power of his office in a corrupt way. It's just that his financial supporters threatened retaliation against the Republicans that would have voted for conviction."

Paxton has vowed to campaign in the Republican primary against House members who voted for his impeachment, especially House Speaker Dade Phelan.

"This is just the tip of the iceberg," Paxton said in a statement

Texas members of Congress face sparse election opposition

Texas has 38 seats in the U.S. House, and 35 incumbents are seeking re-election, the Texas Standard reported. Of that number, 16 do not have a primary challenger, while five will face no opposition in the general election as well.

Of the remaining three seats — all in North Texas — two members are retiring, while U.S. Rep. Colin Allred, D-Dallas, opted to run against U.S. Sen. Ted Cruz next November.

"It is not at all uncommon for incumbents to pretty much coast to reelection, even if they are challenged in the primary or the general election. Incumbents have an enormous advantage in name I.D. and ability to fundraise, connections and networks within the district," Todd Gillman of The News said.

Board signs OKs school library book rules

The State Board of Education approved guidelines for Texas school libraries to use in implementing policies to ban the possession or purchase of books considered "sexually explicit." The guidelines follow passage of a bill in the last regular session requiring book vendors to supply ratings for titles that contain sexual content. The law is being challenged in court by a coalition of book vendors and associations.

"It was a work of deep value and importance to bring the library standards to fruition. In Texas, parents have been identifying this issue to schools without the necessary support of law," said SBOE member Audrey Young, R-Trinity.

Lindale players sign college letters

An overflow crowd gathered in the Lindale High School cafeteria this past Friday to celebrate two graduating players who have signed letters of intent to play major college football this fall.

Offensive lineman Casey Poe made it official with his decision to attend the University of Alabama while wide receiver Marcus Field decided to stay in Texas to play for Sam Houston State University in Huntsville.

Head Football Coach Chris Cochran addressed the crowd which consisted of family members, coaches, Lindale ISD officials and players.

"Lindale High School is really going to miss these young men," Cochran said. "I know I have been blessed to be your coach and we are all excited about your future and what you are going to accomplish."

Poe, a four-star offensive lineman, had offers from Auburn and LSU of the Southeastern Conference. Texas Tech and Oklahoma from the Big 12 and Clemson of the Atlantic Coast Conference. He revealed his decision in July.

In his senior year, Poe graded out at 94 percent and for his career in the offensive line of the Eagles, had 70 knockdowns, helped the team accumulate more than 3,600 yards rushing and 36 touchdowns. He started 35 games for the Eagles and only allowed three quarterback sacks during that time.

His 246 knockdowns set a school record, Cochran said. Field, who was a two-year starter, had 40 catches this year and four touchdowns. For his career, he started 25 games, caught 82 passes for 1,323 yards and 15 scores.

Both players received recognition for their academics this year as well. Poe was recently named second team Academic All State while Field was named to the Honorable Mention team.

Cochran was effusive in his praise for Poe and Field.

"Both of these young men are high character individuals. They care about people and they made a huge impact on our team and our school,"

The coach offered a story about the first time he met Poe.

he said.

"He was in the sixth grade and he wanted me to speak to his FCA group," Cochran said. "I felt like I was talking with a 40-year-old man."

As for Field, the coach cited his giving nature and concern for others.

"He's got a good heart," Cochran said. "He is so kind to others and not one has a better smile than Marcus Field."

Reflections of Christmas past and present

At this time every year I like to offer my favorite Christmas poem:

TWAS THE NIGHT..... By Rusty W. Mitchum

Twas the night before Christmas And who should I see,

But Jolly ol' Santa Starin' at me. As he looked in my eyes And into my head, He saw all my thoughts And all I had said. He studied my face, So I did the same It's not everyday To see one of such fame. His eyelids drooped O'er rises of green, Strangely piercing,

Rusty Mitchum Life & Times

mean

The corners were wrinkled

- From too many smiles And underneath, bags From too many miles. His nose looked once broken,
- But put back in place, And there were wrinkles and scars
- All over the place. His beard was all bushy And oh what a sight,
- His smile so sincere

His waist was surrounded By a wide belt of black, His tummy was swollen From too many snacks. His hands were all spotted

- With age and with scars From too many scuffles In old schoolhouse yards. But to me they looked kind
- From children they'd held
- When they sat on his lap And wishes they'd tell.

Grady and Ty Brynley and Miranda Apples of his eye. Where, you might ask, Did I see Santa's face? Was it down at the Mall Or some other place? Was it down on the Corner Ringin' a bell? Well listen up close, While I finally tell. I had traveled no place, Nowhere had I roamed, I saw Santa's face In my mirror at home. As I turned from the mirror,

I shouted with glee, Merry Christmas to all From Janet and me.

May God Bless each and

ONE YEAR AGO, Dec. 22, 2022

The Lindale Rotary Club honored its Day of Giving recipients in the Lindale area during the club's weekly meeting. Recipients included: The Lindale Volunteer Fire Department, Mercy Ships, ShelterBox, Bethesda Health Clinic, Boy Scouts Troup 351, Children's Advocacy Center of Smith County, Heart and Hands of Smith County, David Powell Community Food Pantry, Hope Haven of East Texas, Lillie Russell Memorial Library, Lindale Independent School District Education Foundation and the Lindale Christmas Helpers. The club also presented a check to Methodist Pastor Michael Peschke in acknowledgement of the meeting location provided by the church.

FIVE YEARS AGO, Dec. 20, 2018

Lindale sales tax receipts increased 12.9 percent as compared to the previous year's reporting period as documented by the release of statewide figures from Texas State Comptroller Glen Hegar. The current sales tax numbers were $252,453.72 compared to $225,011.47. For the year to date, Lindale's sales tax figures were 1.61 percent ahead of the previous year.

10 YEARS AGO, Dec. 19, 2013

A public hearing concerning a transportation reinvestment zone for Loop 49's Lindale Relief Route drew a standing-room only crowd to Lindale City Hall's council chambers as proponents and opponents shared their opinions on the proposal.

Members of the Smith County Commissioner's Court, County Judge Joel Baker and numerous Lindale and county residents took part in the hearing which was part of the regular agenda for the city council.

A transportation reinvestment zone or TRZ is a contiguous geographic area within a city or county and around an existing or proposed transportation project, such as the Lindale Relief Route on Loop 49.

Another successful year for Friends of the Library

This past year has been another successful one for the Friends of the Lillie Russell Memorial Library thanks to the support from the community.

Funds have been provided for the library's general operating fund as well as the children's and adult programs.

Also these funds have helped maintain staff and volunteer support throughout the year.

Plans are currently under way for another successful year in 2024 and the Friends are hoping to receive the same dedicated community support next year.

The Friends meet the second Sunday of each month

Holly and the holidays

By Lynn McGinnis Smith County Master Gardener

Ever wonder why we "deck the halls with boughs of holly? Me too!

Even though it's beautiful shiny green leaves and red berries look amazing why is it so popular at Christmas?

Well, actually holly has a long history, dating back to ancient civilizations and bringing plenty of rich stories and tradition along with it. The small plant can be found in many different places in the world and has ties to antiquity and the Christian religion.

Some scholars believe that the name holly was derived from the word holy. The famous 16th century botanist William Turner, known as the "father of English botany," referred to holly as the "Holy Tree." It is also called "Christ's Thorn" throughout various parts of Europe. Other scholars maintain however that the word holly can trace its roots to an Indo-European word meaning "prickly" or "to prick."

Regardless of the etymology of the word, Christians have identified a wealth of symbolism in the form of holly. The sharpness of the leaves help to recall the crown of thorns worn by Jesus; the red berries serve as a reminder of the drops of blood that were shed for salvation, and the shape of the leaves, which resemble flames, can serve to reveal

God's burning love for his people. Combined with the fact that holly maintains its bright colors during the Christmas season, it naturally came to be associated with the Christian holiday.

Before holly was hung in houses to accompany Christmas trees, it was considered to be a sacred plant by the Druids. While other plants wilted in winter weather, holly remained green and strong, its berries maintain a brightly colored red in the harshest of conditions.

The Druids regarded holly as a symbol of fertility and eternal life, thought to have magical powers. In Druid lore, cutting down a holly tree would bring bad luck. In contrast, hanging the plant in homes was believed to bring good luck and protection.

Holly was also thought to protect homes against lightning strikes. Romans associated holly with Saturn, the god of agriculture and harvest, and decked the halls with its boughs during the festival of Saturnalia.

Holly is an evergreen shrub-like tree that can grow up to 10-15 feet tall. Its thick, leathery dark green leaves have noticeably serrated edges with bright red berries (on the female versions of the plant) that are toxic when consumed by humans (and most household pets). Able to thrive in sunlight or shade with well-drained soil, this versatile shrub or tree is easy to grow.

Branches of this festive plant have symbolized various ideas for different cultures around the world and throughout history. Due in part to its evergreen quality, holly is often used to decorate for many winter holidays and celebrations.

Holly trees are best known as "Christmas Holly" because their bright green leaves and red berries stand out in the winter landscape. Yet, there are many kinds of Holly that can grow in Texas, including many native varieties that you can find growing wild!

This is because the Texas climate is so variable. Texas ranges from USDA Hardiness zones 7a to 10a, which allows for Holly trees with different hardiness levels. Knowing now how pervasive holly is throughout history in winter celebrations, it's no wonder we continue to include it in our biggest winter festival each year. The beauty of this magnificent tree coupled with the long list of stories and legends that come with it make holly a beautiful symbol of Christmas.

So whatever holiday tradition you are celebrating this December, enjoy it with loving family and friends.

Smith County Master Gardeners wish you and your family a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Blackberries rare fruit that grows in east Texas

By Greg Grant Smith County Horticulturist

Many of us grew up picking blackberries the country and my grandmother Emanis would lead us on a trek to fencerows and non-mowed pastures to harvest the plump dark delicacies.

Around our house they were mostly made into delicious cobblers and jelly. East Texas isn't known for being able to produce a plethora of fruits, but we can certainly grow very tasty blackberries.

Thanks to extremely productive, upright, and even thornless varieties, almost anybody in the state with a bit of room and sunshine can harvest their own at home now.

The most important thing to know is that they produce on last year's canes, which die to the ground after production.

Blackberries are generally planted as 1-gallon containerized plants. Occasionally they may be purchased bare root, loosely packed in bags or pots, or even as dormant root cuttings.

Without a doubt, fully rooted containerized plants are the way to go and will get you into the blackberry-eating business sooner. As with most containerized plants in Texas, the best time to plant is fall, followed by winter, spring, and lastly summer.

Planting at the beginning of our cooler, moister season ensures that the plants get established before having to endure our inevitable summer droughts. Blackberries make sizeable plants, as high as 5 feet tall, and should be planted 3 feet apart.

Like most fruits, blackberries need at least eight hours of full sun (preferably more) for maximum production. Blackberries prefer slightly acidic, well-drained soils and can tolerate both heat and cold. The ideal soil pH for blackberries is 5.5 to 7.5.

Blackberries were once sold mostly bare root or from root cuttings that had to be planted in the winter when they were dormant. Luckily these days, they are mostly sold growing in containers, which can be planted year-round if there is moisture.

Dig a hole the same depth but a little wider than the plant, place the root ball into it, and backfill with your existing soil. Put 1 to 2 inches of organic mulch (compost, shredded bark, pine straw, etc.) around the plants to prevent weeds, moderate soil temperatures, and conserve moisture.

After establishment, apply 1/4 pound of a complete lawn fertilizer (15-5-10, 18-6-12, etc.) per plant each year in the late winter, before growth begins, and again after fruit harvest in the summer, when the canes are pruned. Blackberries produce fruit on canes that grew the previous year. After fruiting, these canes die and should be cut out and removed using long-handled loppers.

Cut the new canes back to between 36 to 48 inches to encourage branching and heavier fruit production the following year.

Blackberries will not ripen off the plant and should be picked at the peak of ripeness, when they are the blackest and plumpest, and placed in the refrigerator immediately. Recommended blackberry cultivars for Texas include

'Arapaho' (thornless), 'Brazos' (thorny), 'Chickasaw' (thorny), 'Choctaw' (thorny), 'Kiowa' (thorny), 'Natchez' (thornless), 'Navaho' (thornless), 'Ouachita' (thornless), and 'Rosborough' (thorny). 'Natchez' is a Texas Superstar selection (texassuperstar.com). Though harder to pick, production is higher on the thorny varieties. Blackberries are self-fertile and do not require more than one cultivar to pollinate. Blackberries are native to North America.

For more information on growing blackberries in Texas, read the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service publication about them under Fruit and Nut resources on the Aggie Horticulture website.

Qualification Information: Account transactions and activities may take one or more days to post and settle to the account and all must do so during the Monthly Qualification Cycle in order to qualify for the account's rewards. The following activities do not count toward earning account rewards: ATM-processed transactions, transfers between accounts, debit card purchases processed by merchants and received by our bank as ATM transactions, non-retail payment transactions and purchases made with debit cards not issued by our bank. Transactions bundled together by merchants and received by our institution as a single transaction count as a single transaction for the purpose of earning account rewards. "Monthly Qualification Cycle" means a period beginning one (1) business day prior to the first day of the current statement cycle through one (1) business day prior to the close of the current statement cycle. "Statement Cycle" means the period of time for which our bank provides a summary of the financial activities and transactions that post and settle to the account holder's account. Reward Information: When your Kasasa Cash account qualifications are met during a Monthly Qualification Cycle, daily balances up to and including $20,000 in your Kasasa Cash account earn an interest rate of 6.00% resulting in an APY of 6.17%; and daily balances over $20,000 earn an interest rate of 0.25% on the portion of the daily balance over $20,000, resulting in a blended range from 6.17% to 1.24% APY depending on the account's daily balance. You will receive reimbursements up to an aggregate total of $25.00 for nationwide ATM withdrawal fees incurred within your Kasasa Cash account during that Monthly Qualification Cycle. We reimburse ATM withdrawal fees based on estimates when the withdrawal information we receive does not identify the ATM withdrawal fee. If you have not received an appropriate reimbursement, we will adjust the reimbursement amount if we receive the transaction receipt within sixty (60) calendar days of the withdrawal transaction. When your Kasasa Cash qualifications are not met, the interest rate earned on the account's entire daily balance will be 0.02% resulting in a non-compounding annual percentage yield of 0.02% and ATM withdrawal fees are not refunded. Interest will be credited to your Kasasa Cash account on the last day of the current statement cycle. Nationwide ATM withdrawal fee reimbursements will be credited to your account on the last day of the current statement cycle. APY = Annual Percentage Yield. APYs accurate as of 10/01/2023. APY calculations are based on an assumed balance of $20,000 + $100,000 in your Kasasa Cash account and an assumed statement cycle of thirty-one (31) days. Rates, rewards, and bonuses, if any, are variable and may change after account is opened without notice to you. No minimum balance is required to earn or receive the account's rewards. Rewards less than a penny cannot be distributed. Fees may reduce earnings. Additional Information: Account approval, conditions, gualifications, limits, timeframes, enrollments, log-ons and other requirements apply. $25.00 minimum deposit is required to open the account. Enrollment in online banking and E-Statements are conditions of this account. Enrollment in electronic services (e.g. online banking, e-statements) and log-ons may be required to meet some of the account's qualifications. Limit of one account(s) per Social Security Number. There are no recurring monthly maintenance charges or fees to open or close this account. This account is not to be used for commercial purposes. If the account is closed, you will forfeit any rewards that have not been credited to your account. Contact one of our bank service representatives for additional information, details, restrictions, reward calculations, processing limitations, cycle dates and enrollment instructions. Member FDIC.
